The certain has been on the Copper Convention. The Du-Belle star is out, his actions have retired behind the scenes, more serious drama comes next. On third of September a convention of South Union men is to meet in Philadelphia; every American who loves his country hates treason will heartily sympathize with this effort of men who have been tried in absence of affliction and not found wanting. The long list of signatures to the call for the convention was recently published in columns. To the fathers and brothers of Fullerton, August 21.

The Convention is a perfect success though not exactly such a success as called Republicans in. It means the Loyalty of the most bigoted. They scarcely have fashioned anything so good to this backward and dim-thinking with this boldness and energy.

obligations undertaken on the authority of the President to present, to office during the course of October, persons who had been rejected by the Senate. The point had been raised to concern the President's authority in this respect. The Attorney General will show in an extensive opinion that the law and practice are to the satisfaction of the Government in the existence of this power, with the Executive.

He concluded his speech with the following words:
"I am a Democrat, a Democrat's candidate."

The Radicals of Congress are making resolutions that reserved rights are inviolable, and should not be interfered with in a loyal community. Several returned Confederates, having failed to leave the country, the Conservatives are making a great rumpus about it.

The Conservatives in the Vicksburg District have nominated James H. Morris, a noted rebel, for Congress.

The Legislature is adjourned, only thirty-five names and thirty-five deaths being reported today.

name same with Pat much Jamaican public servant whose foul assassination touched the heart of the people, who with grief and indignation have been moved to do all that they can do to carry out the same policy now by the opposite one which Congress has pursued. His wisdom and patriotism are vindicated by the fact that Congress has but confirmed a broken Union by keeping ten of the States in which a majority of the people are in favor of the Union, could accomplish it, by the constitution of new governments, denying to them the right to be represented, while subjecting their people to every species of legislation, including that of taxation.

At the conclusion of the President's remarks, the audience was unanimously given to Andrew Johnson, and three days to General Grant.

The President and General Grant then retired.
